

Projection of Eternal Cosmos

The precious and ever-elusive eternal cosmos is highly secretive that even after dwelling within it for billions and billions of years it still has more things in store to surprise and baffle others. Unlike the eternal Cosmos, eternal Nature has the characteristic of being always on the progressive flow as Nature is a product of this eternal Cosmos. All creations are identically on the progressive run being the product of Nature and carrying similar characteristics of Nature. On the contrary, the one who emerges as a product of the eternal Cosmos does not necessarily possess the characteristics of being on the run forever, as the expansion of the product of the Universal Cosmos shall take in the same pace as that of the expansion of the eternal Cosmos and the rules of eternal Nature may not be implacable to the product of the Universal Cosmos. The entity of the Cosmos is dictated by a completely different set of rules different from the natural laws applicable in the space-time canvas and remains unaffected by the laws of this universe. The possibility of the future existence of the product of the Absolute Cosmos shall depend on the existence of the inertia with which the product of the Cosmos came into existence. However, from another school of thought since the Universal laws stand inapplicable to the child of the eternal Cosmos, no specific possibilities can restrain the numerous possibilities of the future existence of the entity of the Cosmos. Absolute divinity is not just someone to only respect, it is someone to become, it is this journey that sustains a true seeker having a fiery, strong, and impetuous passion for divinity. This helps in attaining a stage of contentment and vision from where the unmasked face of reality and truth can be seen in the minutest detail. The Ultimate is the truth beyond all truths, beyond the celestial bodies and formations, beyond the firmament, to live without Him is the real death, to die with Him is the only life. It is never that easy for the greatest spiritual giant to conform to societal norms and walk through countless enormously diminutive minuscules.
